

Technical drawing of a rectangular frame assembly, likely a window or door frame, showing dimensions and components.

Dimensions:

- Overall width: 1330
- Overall height: 1720
- Inner width: 900
- Inner height: 1300
- Top and bottom frame section width: 800x2000

Labels and Components:

- A: Label on the right side of the inner frame.
- B: Label on the bottom side of the inner frame.
- C: Label on the left side of the inner frame.
- D: Label on the top side of the inner frame.
- COP: Label on the left side of the inner frame, possibly indicating a component or material.
- ®: Registered trademark symbol, located near the center of the frame.

The drawing shows a detailed cross-section of the frame assembly, including the inner frame, outer frame, and various fasteners and seals. The frame is composed of multiple layers, with the innermost layer being the most prominent. The outer frame is shown in a cross-section view, revealing the internal structure and the way the inner frame is attached. The dimensions are clearly marked with arrows and numbers, providing a precise scale for the assembly. The labels A, B, C, and D identify specific parts of the frame, while COP and the registered trademark symbol provide additional context or branding information.
